The 5 Best Hypoallergenic Lipsticks

BY LISA FOGARTY | APR 17 2018 |

When it comes to cosmetics, lipstick is a true hero – it's the one piece of makeup that can instantly transform any look, even a completely bare face. But if you have allergies or sensitive skin, finding a formula that's both pigmented and non-irritating can be a challenge. Luckily, some of the best hypoallergenic lipsticks are only a click away.

Most of us probably don't think of lipstick as something that can wreak havoc on our skin. But as we've become more educated about how ingredients (and sadly, chemicals) found in our beauty products can negatively affect us (sensitive skin or not), the demand for natural beauty products – which include hypoallergenic formulas – has exploded.

Of course, this is good news for irritation-prone individuals, because now there are more options than ever before for people with delicate skin. Beyond being hypoallergenic, most of

The lipsticks listed below are free of allergens (like gluten and phthalates), and they're all nourishing and beautifully pigmented, too. No matter your personal style – whether you prefer a matte, glossy, or shimmery look – you'll find a formula on this list that'll become your new obsession.

1. AN ULTRA-HYDRATING LIPSTICK FOR DRY LIPS THAT COMES IN SATIN, MATTE, AND FROSTED FORMULAS

If you have dry, sensitive lips that seem to react to everything, you'll want to add this hypoallergenic lipstick to your makeup collection stat. It's free of parabens and fragrances, hasn't been tested on animals, and comes in three formulas: creamy satin, matte, and frosted. Infused with moisturizing squalene and vitamins A and E, this lipstick works wonders on severely chapped or parched lips. And the color selection is extraordinary: You can choose among 54 shades of lipstick that range from a light pearly pink to classic matte reds and vampy purple hues.

lasting formula. This lip formula (which was certified by PETA) contains absolutely no parabens, phthalates, or gluten and is enriched with vitamin E for extra hydration, because we all know most mattes can be really drying. Its color selection ranges from light pink nudes to this bright bombshell red and deeper shades of ruby. And reviewers say this is the real deal – a liquid formula that's "perfectly matte" and even smells great.

5. A BEST-SELLING, CAN'T-GO-WRONG LIPSTICK THAT'S RICH IN NATURAL OILS

Gabriel Cosmetics Lipstick

If your motto when it comes to natural oils and botanicals in lipstick is "the more, the merrier," you'll flip over this vegan lipstick, which is free of petrochemicals and gluten. What it does contain instead is a rich blend of oils and extracts like jojoba seed, aloe, sesame seed oil, safflower seed oil, and sea fennel – all of which are naturally sourced. You can choose among six shades like clay, copper glaze, and sheer pink. And the thing that really stands out in the reviews is how so many fans say the colors look amazing on all skin shades.
